

Office Resolution

As part of the activities for the Academic Association Senate, all department Presidents & Secretaries are hereby requested to conduct a "Handout Compliance Exercise" for all courses being offered by their departments.

The elected representatives may enlist the help of other stakeholders & members of the General Body in this exercise.

The following salient features must be mentioned in the handout:

- Compliance with clause 4.04, Academic Regulations (2023), BITS, Pilani:
Within one week of the beginning of classwork, the instructor-in-charge/instructor must announce to his/her class/section through a hand-out, the necessary information in respect of (i) the operations of the course (its pace, coverage and level of treatment, textbooks and other reading assignments, home tasks etc.); (ii) various components of evaluation, such as tutorials, laboratory exercises, home assignment, several quizzes/tests/examinations (announced or unannounced, open book or closed book), regularity of attendance, etc., (iii) the frequency, duration, tentative schedule, relative weightage etc. of these various components; (iv) the broad policy which governs decisions about make-up; (v) mid-semester grading; (vi) grading procedure (overall basis, review of border line cases, effect of class average, etc.) and (vii) other matters found desirable and relevant.
- Compliance with clause 4.05, Academic Regulations (2023), BITS, Pilani:
At least 20% of the evaluation component must be open-book in the form of written tests or take-home assignments for a first-degree course.
- Compliance with clause 1.17, Academic Regulations (2023), BITS, Pilani:
These regulations do not stipulate a minimum attendance percentage before a student is permitted to appear in any test/examination.
Example: Any policy that says "minimum x% attendance or assignment/test won't be checked" is not allowed.

- Compliance with inference from clause 4.06, Academic Regulations (2023), BITS, Pilani:

Any student who misses any component of evaluation must immediately approach the instructor-in-charge so that the instructor-in-charge, if He/she is satisfied as to the bona fide of the request, may arrange as soon as possible a make-up approximating as closely as possible the circumstances of the component of evaluation which the student missed.

Inference - A blanket ban on make-ups for announced quizzes, mid-semesters and other components cannot be permitted. The make-up policy must also be clearly enunciated in the Handout.

- Compliance with Notification from Office of Dean, AUGS (point 4) dated 02d April 2025 - If the Instructor-in-charge/instructor plans to have surprise assessments as a part of the evaluation scheme, it should not exceed 10% of the total evaluation component. It is highly recommended that built-in makeup, such as the best N-2 out of N, be incorporated as part of it.
- Compliance with Notification from Office of Dean, AUGS (point 4) dated 02nd April 2025 - While regular student attendance is strongly encouraged, instructors and instructors-in-charge should refrain from assigning direct attendance marks.
However, attendance may be considered as a distinguishing factor when determining grades for students with identical scores who are on the borderline between two grades.

Flow of process for any flagged compliance issue with the handouts -

- Informal class representative OR department President/Secretary must write to the IC, requesting them to kindly make the course compliant with AR 2023.
- The department SFC must resolve any pending issues.
- The documentation for the above will be collected shortly for committee discussions.
